

Discover the Role of an Aging Life Care Professional

"The best friend you wish you had in the industry!"

How can they assist?

- Create long and short-term strategic care plans that incorporate clients' needs, wishes, financials, conditions, and goals.
- Coordinate eldercare between multiple service providers to help streamline communication.
- Help manage emotional concerns, stress, and anxiety.
- Find the best doctors or specialists for specific conditions.
- Attend medical appointments with clients, take notes, make suggestions, and distribute the information to the necessary parties.
- Make home visits to evaluate living conditions, implement safety recommendations, and provide ongoing assessment of life care needs.
- Provide crisis management or response. Medical advocacy during an ER visit / hospital admission.
- Connect clients with other professionals as needed: attorneys, doctors, fiduciaries, etc.
- Oversee the hiring of care agencies as needed.
- Manage transitional care or long-distance travel needs.
- Ordering supplies, managing equipment delivery and maintenance.

Answer questions like...

- How long can mom/dad stay at home?
- What safety precautions should be taken?
- When is the right time to make a change?
- What are the benefits of independent living versus remaining at home?
- What can I do to help my loved one become more socially engaged?
- How do I ensure my loved one has a support system while I am remote?
- How do I converse with my family to agree to a plan or the same plan?
- What government benefits do I qualify for?

Questions? (858)868-5500

Recommendations

AGING FOCUSED	Rebecca Montano, PhD, CCM, CRC, CMC (858) 695-2369 rebecca@agingfocused.com
BOUTIQUE CARE MANAGEMENT	Marguerite Parzen, RN, C-GNP (619) 300-7727 inquiry@boutiquecaremanagement.com
ENGAGE LIFE CARE	Alesia Clark, MS, PT, CMC, CDP, Gerontologist (760) 266-4700 alesia@engagelifecare.com
VISIONARY CARE CONSULTANTS	Tina Buchanan, MSW, ALCM (619) 228-3584 info@visionarycareconsultants.com
AGING ADVISORY SERVICES	Jacqueline Silverman *Please note that she is a Certified Senior Advisor (CSA) (858) 395-7733 jacqueline@agingadvisoryservices.com